Important notes:

The Purchaser acknowledges that this contract has been concluded based on a pre-designed house, rather than a bespoke designed house. All pricing, including Specifications & Finishes is calculated accordingly. Whilst there are opportunities (per the relevant clauses in the contract) to make variations, not all requests for variations may be accommodated.

The materials specified in this Schedule are dependent upon availability. Where the items specified and/or indicated on the Architect's drawings cannot be obtained from the Seller's usual supply chain, the Seller reserves the right to supply alternate items of similar quality without notice to the Purchaser, provided there is no material adverse effect on the dwelling.

Should an instance arise where this Schedule is in conflict with the working drawings, then this Schedule will override the drawing(s), unless determined otherwise by the Architect whose decision is final & binding. Where the Purchaser purchases the property during the construction process, those materials and finishes already installed and/or procured will override this Schedule.

Provisional sums indicate the total fixed amount, including VAT, set aside for the relevant item/element and all associated components, fittings and labour etc. to complete the installation. Any amount over and above the provisional sum is for the account of the Purchaser. Additional management and coordination charges may be applicable where a Purchaser selects variations and or finishes outside of the Seller's normal supply chain.

The Purchaser will be requested to select tile and carpet colours, as well as certain other finishes types/colours, from the available options provided by the Seller after construction has commenced. The Purchaser agrees to make such selections when requested to do so, failing which the Seller shall have the right to make the required selection in conjunction with the Architect.

Note that all joinery (kitchen/scullery/bedrooms & other) indicated on any plans, images or marketing materials is indicative only. The joinery requirements are determined by the Purchaser at a later stage and costed then, whilst taking account of the fixed allowance.

The cost of municipal services consumed during construction (water, sewerage, electricity etc.) are not for the account of the Purchaser.

Any landscaping, boundary walls, furnishings and optional extras indicated on plan are for illustrative purposes only and are not to be assumed to be provided.
